Design:

Designer: Peter Niemitz Design Group

Kimpton Taconic is a quintessential Vermont experience with an elevated, contemporary feel. Reminiscent of Vermont’s grand inns of the 19th and 20th centuries, the design celebrates the architectural heritage of the area and seamlessly integrates Kimpton Taconic into the fabric of the village.

The white clapboard exterior with black-trimmed federal home-style windows exudes a residential feel, enhanced by a large and inviting porch that wraps around the exterior of the building. On the interior, a lobby resembling the entrance of a grand home welcomes guests and spills into the Living Room, which features a double-sided fireplace and a calm, sophisticated color scheme of natural tones with pops of color from artworks and accent fabrics. Guestrooms are classic New England style, featuring oak furniture and vintage touches such as a spool-style lounge chair. Artworks from local historic society adorn the guestroom walls, bringing the sites and scenes of Manchester throughout the seasons indoors. Bathrooms have black-and-white mosaic floors, chrome finishes, and a wood framed mirror flanked by two white glass wall sconces.
